

Journal of Biourbanism

biourbanism /'bʌɪəʊ/ \ 'ər-bə-,ni-zəm\

focuses on the urban organism, considering it as a hypercomplex system according to its internal and external dynamics and their mutual interactions

The Journal of Biourbanism (JBU) is a peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary, international journal. The journal takes an incisive look into the bios/life of urbanism through perspectives in architecture, planning, environmental studies and other social sciences. The journal aims to critically review and define the notion of biourbanism. Assessing human-centered or need-based design sensibilities is a predominant concern, while attempting to address the disconnect between theory and practice in participating disciplines. The journal publishes cutting edge research, methodologies and innovative design approaches on biourbanism.

The Journal of Biourbanism (JBU) is the official journal of the International Society of Biourbanism (ISB).

JBU Editorial Guidelines

Abstract: 100–150 words

An abstract must be included within the manuscript to summarize the subject and intent of your work.

Keywords: 5–10 keywords

A list of 5–10 keywords (i.e. common indexing terms) appearing within the manuscript and related to its main thrust must be added to the abstract.

Length: 5,000–8,000 words for manuscripts

Exceptions can be made depending on form as well as context, based on each JBU issue.

Copy Editing and Proofreading: Manuscripts should be grammatically and stylistically adequate. Text is to be single-spaced with left justification, and in Times New Roman 12pt font. No major changes, with the exception of grammatical, typographical, and reference list corrections will be accepted. Final manuscripts are to be submitted in final format and ready for publication.

MathType: MathType must be used for all equation formatting. Neither LaTeX files nor Metafiles will be accepted for publication.

Symbols and Letters: Symbols and letters must be consistent in their formatting throughout the manuscript (i.e. Italics as seen in each equation for the common symbol x).

Subhead Divisions: Subheads should not be numbered. All subheadings are required to be formatted in Bold, 12pt.

Images: Images are to be submitted separately in TIFF format, and according to the order they appear in the manuscript. Corresponding placement for all images in the manuscript must be identified with text. Copyrighted images (including screenshots, figures, tables, graphics, etc.) that are included in your manuscript have permission to be edited in JBU. Captions for any copyrighted images are to be added to the manuscript. Please keep in mind that it is your responsibility to obtain written permission on any copyrighted images in your article.

Endnotes: Endnotes will be placed at the end of the manuscript following the reference list. No footnotes (only because society requires uniformity). At a minimum, 15–20 references are preferred. All references listed at the end of your article must be quoted throughout the text.

APA and JBU House Style: Please adhere to the American Psychological Association (APA) Style Guide for citations. Changes with regard to capitalization, block quotes, bulleted and numbered lists, as well as placement of images, may be adjusted during the typesetting phase. Please use American Style English.

File Format: Final manuscripts are to be submitted as a Microsoft Word compatible document. Please include names and e-mails of each author from the corresponding manuscript.

Permission to Print: Journal of Biourbanism assumes full print permission for received manuscripts. If your material is copyrighted, we assume your authorization to publish. JBU reserves the right to accept or reject any manuscript or submitted work.

All materials should be sent directly to the Editor-in-Chief.
